

MyDesiFood

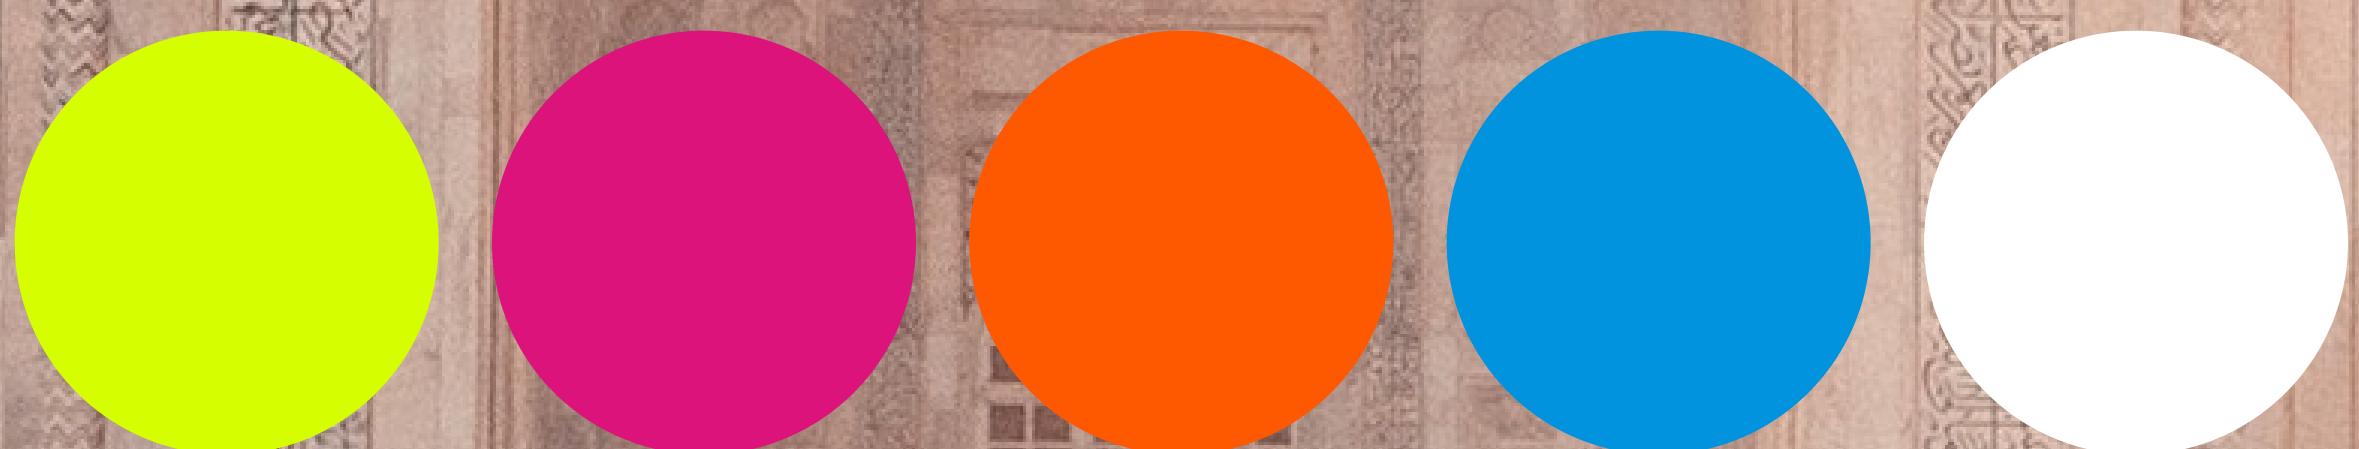

A food search app for subcontinental meals available nearby, targeted at students and visitors going abroad from South Asia. The main platform to use for this purpose will be smartphones.

Desi Food at Fingertips!

At the home screen, the user will be able to provide the name or postal code of the desired area or would be able to use Gps to auto-locate the area. Which will trigger the search Specifically for restaurants/hotels in that particular area that offer Subcontinental food.
